Income from students' union fees is estimated at $60,720.

Expenditures are: Evergreen and Gold, year book, $12,000; Gateway, students' weekly paper, $5,083; $3,000; building fund, $29,252 and provisions for Students' Union clubs, $13,860. Total expenditures, $60,720.

Kenneth F. Noble, Canadian Government Trade Commissioner at Hong Kong, home on leave in Canada, will be a visitor in Edmonton on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 27 and 28.

Mr. Noble, who in early 1951 will take over duties of Canadian Government Trade Commissioner in Cape Town, South Africa, is on a tour of Canada.

In Edmonton he will be guest of the Alberta Branch, Canadian Manufacturers' Association and will visit officials in the Department of Industries and Labour, leading manufacturers, Chambers of Commerce officials and a number of industrial plants. He will also make a trip to the oil fields and new oil refineries in the surrounding district.

Mr. Macdonald is vice-chairman of General Electric Co. Community Chest receipts showed a substantial increase yesterday, with $7,500 being turned in.

This brings the grand total to $116,000, still somewhat short of the $175,000 objective.

Returns are coming in faster now and officials feel that the objective will be reached by the time all points have been canvassed.

Premier Silent On City Claim

Premier C. C. Manning withheld comment today on Mayor Parsons' claim that Edmonton should receive a 25 per cent rebate on gasoline taxes paid by Edmonton motorists and trucks.

The premier said he would make no comment until receiving a further communication from city officials on the subject. Some correspondence was received from the city previously, Mr. Manning said, but a detailed request is expected.

Joint Sewage Disposal Plant Being Discussed

City officials are negotiating with Strathcona municipal district officials for construction of a joint sewage disposal plant.

Commissioner D. B. Menzies said today he is waiting for a reply from Strathcona officials on a request for this project.

Meeting last week between City Engineer J. D. A. Macdonald, Mr. Menzies, and members of the municipal district council.

If negotiations are successful, a plant would be built on the south bank of the Saskatchewan River at approximately 30 street.

It would serve both Forest Heights area in the city, and the Strathcona area immediately east of city.

If negotiations are not successful, the city would build its own Forest Heights disposal plant on the south river bank at approximately 15 street.

Money for both Forest Heights and a Highlands plant was included in 1950 and 1951 capital estimates.

Mr. Menzies said no cost estimate is possible yet on either combined plant, although initial screening and gathering work has been done on the Highlands project.

"Anything now would be just a straight guess, because the provincial government is carrying on tests of various degrees of treatment needed to make river water safe for places like Fort Saskatchewan," he said.

"Until things are completed next spring, we'll just have to wait to start actual designing of the plants."

He explained the government will set a minimum standard of treatment and then the plants will be designed to meet it.

Carl Berg Back For City Campaign

Leader Sees No Left Slant In City's Union Setup

There's no slant to the extreme "left" in the ranks of organized labor in Edmonton.

That's the opinion of Carl E. Berg, MBE, vice-president of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada and a candidate in the current aldermanic race in this city.

The busy labor leader, who anti-fascist activities on behalf of the TLC has caused the Communist element to call him a "fascist," said Edmonton Labor, "Besides being the best organized of any city in Canada, it is also the freest of adversive influences."

Berg returned to the city last night to conduct his bid for one of five aldermanic posts vacant here. He must go back soon to his late TLC chores in Vancouver, "studying" Vancouver's Civic Employees' Federation, Local 28.

CHORE IN VANCOUVER

Berg said he was endeavoring to find ways to bring about a change in the relationship between the Civic Workers' Union in Vancouver and the Trades and Labor Congress.

Berg said that among other things he would ask at a special meeting November third that all members who were nominated or stood for election to the union should make a declaration that they were "not members of the Communist or Labor Progressive party."

Rotary Club Sets Club Goal

Bringing young men into Rotary service was urged as the number one goal of the Rotary Club by Richard Mayson, Prince Albert, governor of district 171 of Rotary International, in an address Tuesday to the South Side branch of the club.

Mr. Mayson is making an annual tour of western Canada and will be the guest of the Edmonton Rotary Club Thursday at the Macdonald Hotel.

On behalf of the board's conference committee, all of Edmonton's public school teachers expressed their thanks to Mr. Macdonald "who was so greatly responsible for the bettering of school conditions during the last five years."

Retiring chairman was a board trustee for one year prior to being named chairman.

EXPRESSES THANKS Chairman Macdonald conveyed his thanks to the board members and said that "the five years that have gone by have been a happy five years, and the work very interesting."

"And Edmonton's teachers are the finest in western Canada," he said the conference committee, who represented the teachers.

He will retire following the election of a new chairman next week.

Brothers of Sister Lodge cordially invited.

British Dollar Export Deputy Visits Edmonton

Deputy chairman of the British dollar export board, Sir Percy Lister, is in Edmonton today on the first leg of a round-the-world trip to gather first-hand knowledge of bilateral trade possibilities.

He will confer with Chambers of Commerce officials here to discuss ways of improving trade between Great Britain and Canada and the likelihood of fitting Alberta's products into the exchange pattern.

Britain's "dollar man" has long had a close interest in the British Canadian trade. As head of several British engineering firms, he has visited Canada annually since 1945, and while in Edmonton this time will confer with officials of Bruce Robinson and Wilkinson & McLean, local distributors of his company's products.

"It's only 14 months since Britain's exchange problems was at its worst," he commented today. "Since then we've managed to get ourselves almost out of difficulty, but our problem now is to put our export problem now to our export."

His trip around the world will take him from Canada to New Zealand, Australia, Malaya and India, where, he hopes, discussions will prove "mutually advantageous to both sides of the trade of all these countries."

At home Sir Percy is active in both international and national commerce. He is a member of the Anglo-Canadian Trade Committee and of the Capital Issues Committee.

Court Robes Again Changed For Uniform

The black legal robes of a Supreme Court clerk were today exchanged for army battle dress by Roni Edmonds, 545 107 street.

With 11½ years of active service and 23 years in the reserve army under his belt, Major Edmonds Monday was again called out by the Army to resume the post of instructor he held during the last war at Currie Barracks, Calgary.

As a Court House clerk since 1928, he was successively clerk of District Court and then of Supreme Court criminal. He will be succeeded in the latter post by Henry Corie.

Major Edmonds will leave this week for Calgary where it is expected he will join the Second Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, as an instructor.

Civic Rights Imperilled

When the uniform city charter, proposed by the provincial government for all Alberta cities is found to be so deficient and ill-conceived that it requires 215 changes to make it acceptable to Edmonton, it is time Alberta cities, and all Canadian cities for that matter, began to consider ways and means of freeing themselves from provincial control.

The best way that can be accomplished that purpose is by seeking recognition in the Canadian constitution, soon to be broadly amended, so that their rights and privileges will be constitutional rather than a mere handout from provincial governments.

Obviously, the new provincial bill is intolerable to Alberta cities in many vital respects.

For example, the Edmonton council has discovered that regulations in this bill would automatically increase residential taxes by from 10 to 20 per cent.

Aldermen are completely opposed, and rightly so, to the clause which would reduce the city's debt limit from its present 30 per cent of rateable property to only 20 per cent.

It is an utter absurdity that one government elected by the people should be able to force another government elected by the people how much of their own money they can spend and exactly in what manner they must spend it.

Another case which illustrates the anomalous situation on which the cities find themselves is the case of day-light saving.

The provincial government has made it illegal for day-light saving to be instituted anywhere in Alberta.

Now the Edmonton Bulletin has always opposed daylight because of its hardship it imposes on farmers, because the northerly position of Edmonton renders it unnecessary and because it believes that, if daylight saving is to be employed at all, it should be made a uniform requirement, by agreement, all across Canada.

But while the provincial government's view concerning our own in this particular, the fact remains that the coercion is most unjust. It is manifestly wrong that a predominantly rural legislature should dictate to communities that are essentially urban.

Provincial control of cities serves no useful purpose whatever and may inflict gross injustices.

If there is to be any uniformity of civic government, that uniformity, along with civic rights and privileges, should be derived from the constitution of Canada and not from provincial governments.

The British North America Act, as recently interpreted by the supreme court of Canada, lays down certain definite and specific particulars in which the dominion enjoys sovereignty and certain definite and specific particulars in which the provinces enjoy sovereignty.

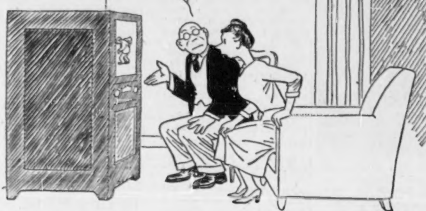

It would be a tremendously progressive step if that national constitution were made to set forth certain other particulars in which incorporated cities enjoyed a measure of sovereignty.

It is ridiculous, for instance, that the province of Prince Edward Island, with its 95,000 people, or Nova Scotia or New Brunswick with their populations of 577,982 and 457,000 respectively, should enjoy a greater measure of self-control and constitutional recognition than Montreal with its 950,000 people or Toronto with its 700,000.

Letters to the Editor

Disposal Of People Urged

Editor, Bulletin—Would you publish the following letter in your paper at the earliest opportunity, and help to publicize the main idea? The problem affects not only the city of Edmonton, but also the entire province of Alberta. It suggests a means of disposing of Edmonton, and perhaps because of Edmonton's strategic situation, of all Canada. As long as the cold war continues, and increases in intensity, it is an important method of preventing hostilities or even warfare is to remove the temptation to bomb. Our new bridge should be located in an area more remote from a bombing target. The best location, I believe, runs from the top of Scena Hill to Knob Hill to Jasper Ave. Just east of the new McDonald Hotel, with a branch to 97 St. This could connect with the Calgary trail of the C.P.R. yards, and thus relieve the present High Level Bridge of much of its traffic.

Let us make our own area of the city that the High Level Bridge lies in the same bombing target as the city power plant and the Parliament Building. Our new bridge should be located in an area more remote from a bombing target. The best location, I believe, runs from the top of Scena Hill to Knob Hill to Jasper Ave. Just east of the new McDonald Hotel, with a branch to 97 St. This could connect with the Calgary trail of the C.P.R. yards, and thus relieve the present High Level Bridge of much of its traffic.

Health Opposition

Editor, Bulletin: Now that there are four major parties in Canada no more are required because in every province there can be the tendency for a democratic system to become oligarchy. When a condition of both democracy and stability is required the fewer and the bigger the parties are, the better it is provided a one-party system is avoided.

In Britain, one "health" opposition party has probably given stronger opposition than five or six smaller opposition parties ever would do, unless they were united. Having seven or eight parties does not avoid anything when the same work can be done by two or three.

Baby Bonus Means Tax

Editor, Bulletin: I wonder why the media don't apply to the family allowance. Indeed from what I have heard one is expected to apply for the latter or else imagine that, in comparison with the O.A.P. and the searching questions as to the applicant's financial position, even when the family allowance is given, one might associate with the family allowance.

The Strange Case Of Dr. Canuck

Consider the strange case of the young doctor who for five years successfully practiced medicine in the United States. His name doesn't matter. But as he lived in Canada before he joined the army medical corps let's call him Doctor Canuck.

They sent Dr. Canuck to jail last year not long ago. They found out that he had no medical diploma—in fact, had never been graduated even by a high school.

But somewhere or other Dr. Canuck had acquired the "know-how" to do the things that doctors do. He had delivered hundreds of babies. He had performed difficult operations. Some of his successes read like a book.

The nurse who got the best chance to assess a doctor's true efficiency, said he was top-notch. "He was a very good doctor and a nice person," says Miss Miriam Watsch, superintendent of the Brookview Women's Hospital.

Better Sentence
Far be it from me to excuse Dr. Canuck's deception, especially when he married a doctor's daughter. But this piece is about the end of the story of the Dicken's law's character:

"The law is a liar."
The law is taking an ass when the law says a good doctor to jail. There are many parts of the U.S.A.—United States—Canada—where the people can't get a doctor for love nor money.

month, without any petition for the services of a doctor?

Why do you pass laws indicating that doctors get diplomas? Surely because the diplomas is a partial assurance that the person in question will make a fit healer. Yet everybody knows of a few doctors who have no diplomas who are far from competent.

The compulsion to get a diploma may keep many a doctor out of the medical profession. But half a dozen diplomas cannot make a doctor any more than a diploma can make him one?

Did It, Too
It is said that in some common-law university make it possible for Dr. Canuck to get his diploma in less time than those who start from scratch. After all, you have to admit that he learned his doctoring the hard way—by watching and doing rather than by reading.

Reminds me of a tale I heard in the Far North. In the early days of a famous gold camp city, Dr. Canuck's deception, especially when he married a doctor's daughter. But this piece is about the end of the story of the Dicken's law's character:

Careless With Atomic Scientists

Dr. Bruno Pontecorvo, atomic scientist born in Italy and naturalized in Britain, was working in Britain on British atomic projects for two years.

On July 6, he went off on a vacation. He had been in England for only a few days, but it has been established, and it looks very much as though he had carried off his knowledge to the Soviet Union.

Top Entertainers Eulogize Jolson

Deep Regret Over Passing Of Mammy Singer; Funeral Set

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 25.—(UP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for jazz singer Al Jolson—the "world's greatest entertainer" whose "you ain't heard nothing yet" thrilled three generations of movie and theatre-goers.

Jolson died of a heart attack Monday night in a San Francisco hotel room while he was in the Bay City to record a radio broadcast with Bing Crosby.

His body was returned here yesterday by chartered airplane. Services for the "Mammy" singer with the twinkling eyes and big grin were scheduled at Temple Israel with Rabbi Max Nussbaum officiating.

The great show business personality died at the age of 50, having made an estimated $200,000 from 50 years of singing.

TRIP CONTRIBUTED Many said Jolson's recent entertainment trip to the Korean war zone contributed to his death.

He was sick and worn out when he returned from Korea where he gave 43 shows, said his attorney M. B. Silversberg.

"Jolson was basically a real party," Silversberg said. "That meant giving your life to your country."

WAR CASUALTY The death of American singers was just as much as any soldier who died in Korea, said comedian Eddie Cantor in Mobile, Ala.

His former wife, dancer Ruby Keeler, said the trip was a "big undertaking for him."

"He died as he always lived—in action," said President Harry S. Truman.

His close friend, George Jessel, said "There'll never be anyone to replace Al Jolson."

Warner Brothers, where he made the first talking picture in 1927, called him the "finest entertainer on earth."

GREAT INSPIRATION To Larry Parks who played Jolson in two movies of his life, he will be a "great inspiration to future generations." Crooner Bing Crosby said.

LOVEABLE old junk dealer Edmund Gwenn is mysterious New York counterfeiter "Mister 880," in Twentieth Century-Fox's poignant comedy, "Mister 880," which opens Thursday at Rialto. Burt Lancaster is seen as handsome T-man investigating case, and Dorothy McGuire as charming secretary who brings two together.

'Mister 880' Hinges Around Lovable Old Counterfeiter

Burt Lancaster, Dorothy McGuire and Edmund Gwenn, top-line the Rialto Theatre's new Twentieth Century-Fox offering, "Mister 880," scheduled to arrive Thursday.

The poignant new comedy, based on a warm, humorous article in The New Yorker, tells of a Treasury Department investigation of a loveable old accomp with a nasty habit of counterfeiting one-dollar bills.

Lancaster is the T-man, Steve Burdman, ordered to track down the mysterious New York phony.

Millard Mitchell stars as a hard-working treasury agent who has been failing trying to get a clue to the identity of Gwenn for 10 years. He supplies much of the comedy in the picture.

"Mister 880," with its all-star cast, was produced and directed by Julian Blaustein and Edmund Gwenn.

Mrs. McGuire as Anna Winslow, plays the role of the charming young secretary who inadvertently brings the two together.

Money-maker, known only to the department as "Mister 880."

JUNK DEALER Gwenn is the kindly old junk dealer, "Skipper" Miller, who prides the bills only when he needs them.

Mrs. McGuire as Anna Winslow, plays the role of the charming young secretary who inadvertently brings the two together.

"Yes," Ken Reardon agreed, "hockey players owe a lot to Clarence Campbell. But Campbell owes a lot to one hockey player, Lou Lacombe."

"He owes it to me... one thousand bucks." A big grin broke over his face as he said it.

Currently "dole" the west in the interests of Montreal Canadiens, the longtime Edmonton Athletic Club junior star moved into a local hockey venture. His business hereabouts will require that he stay put for several days.

"Spud" Russell, top Montreal bird-dog (scout, if you like), appeared to be carrying more than his share of the baggage as they took over the hotel room.

Reardon's reference to hockey players "owing a lot to Clarence Campbell" had to do with the popular players' pension scheme inaugurated by the National Hockey league president a couple of years ago.

As for the "thousand bucks"—that served to remind of the now famous Reardon "fine," following a stick-swinging bout with Toronto's Cal Gardner in the 1948-49 season.

Gardner had landed a good one on the Reardon chops, causing the Montreal fenceman considerable physical and mental agony. Neither was his feelings improved when league president Campbell fined each of the axemen $250.

But the worst was yet to come. An enterprising magazine writer did the incident up brown, including several colorful quotes from the still stinging Reardon.

Among other things he promised in print was "I'll get Gardner if it's the last thing I do."

When Mr. Campbell got wind of this he levied the stiffest fine in hockey history on Reardon—$1000. Then he bound the fiery Reardon to a wall, promising that the fine would be returned eventually "for good behaviour."

And that's where the matter stands today. Reardon not yet having gotten round to requesting that the money be refunded.

"Funny thing about that quote," he admitted with a grin. "When Campbell called it in for the hearing I told him sure I had it. I figured I'd get it back maybe a hundred dollars and I'd get a million dollars worth of publicity out of it."

"You know, and the grin was still there, 'if I'd thought it was going to be a thousand I might've squirmed a little on those quotes.'"

While Reardon is specifically in the employ of Montreal general manager Frank Selke he's quick to carry the torch for big league hockey as a whole.

"The National Hockey league can offer a boy a good future, the way it's set up," he pointed out. "Just last week, while in Fort William, he was quoted to the effect that 'it's a great mistake for a boy of 16 to quit school to play hockey.'"

He reiterated this stand, too.

"He's lots of time after a boy gets his education to think about hockey seriously," he said. "A boy should get his education first. Then he has something to fall back on if he doesn't make the grade as a hockey player."

Reardon won't confine himself entirely to hockey and its ramifications for the next while. He will return east shortly where he has a very important date to keep—a date to get married.

Dec. 7 he'll be married in Montreal to the daughter of Senator Raymond, long a prominent shareholder in Les Canadiens.

"Sure, I know that's the date of Pearl Harbor," he quipped. "But this particular Dec. 7 isn't going to touch off any war."

The Reardons' will honeymoon in Bermuda, no less. In which case there's a good chance Clarence Campbell will get an early request for the return of that much discussed thousand dollars.

Lacombe Gridders May Perform Here

Possibility of an exhibition high school football game between Lacombe and an Edmonton squad was seen last night after a meeting held in the office of Stuart Bird, supervisor of sports for the schools.

Game, tentatively scheduled for Friday, November 3, will serve as a preliminary to the sub-senior High School Senior Football league final at Clarke Stadium.

Referee of the high school league met with coaches, managers and team captains of the various squads and discussed interpretations of rules.

Also discussed were arrangements for the provincial play-off game with Calgary, November 11.

High School Junior Football league final between St. Joseph's and Eastwood will be played at Clarke Stadium tomorrow night commencing at 7:30 o'clock.

Second half of a doubleheader will be played by the Victoria Comets as they attempt to clinch a playoff spot with a victory over the Western senior eleven.

CAHA Faces Loss $70,000 Quebec Plum

MONTREAL, Oct. 25.—(UPI)—It appeared possible last night that a $20,000 player-release squabble within the ranks of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association would, if difference are not found out here, hit the Quebec branch, grow to a $70,000-a-year feud with the CAHA's loss.

The figure comes from Frank Dineo, Quebec Amateur Hockey Association representative, who told a meeting of Montreal players with Quebec for four years, while the CAHA's loss would be $70,000.

About This and That

Note of thanks: Thanks a million to all of you nice folks who telephoned congratulating me on the arrival of my new car. Sure with I could buy cigars and chocolates enough for you all.

This sounds like a new story about Ferdinand and the bull. It seems that jeweller Ferdinand Nadeau goes a-hunting with Larrimer and Don Payment.

Ferdinand shoots a lot of bull partridge but never seems to bring in many birds. Guess what he tells the Payments. That when he wounds the birds they cover themselves over with leaves and hide on him.

See what I mean by the modern story of Ferdinand and the bull?

Henry Singer called up to tell me the Eskimo Rugby Football Club are draw will be held Saturday night in the Trocadero.

And while we're on the subject of those Eskimos: Have been getting quite a few calls and letters about the Stukus clan. One man wants to know if it is correct that Stukus is offering five dollars for winning-play suggestions.

Stuke is silent on this point but my own guess is that Stukus is going to make much more money in the days from thousands of "experts" he doesn't have to offer cash prizes.

E. L. Robinson of 9628-106 street is one good loyal Eskimo fan.

Writes fan Robinson: "I believe the Eskimos will win if a little well-deserved praise is spoken."

Such people as "Eduking Eskimos" being tossed around by garrulous radio announcers are getting under the Robinson hide.

"I call this destructive psychology," he writes and concludes with this ringing challenge:

"I don't know one of the Eskimo team members, but I'm an Edmontonian, and have enough sportsmanship to stay with the very worthy Eskimo ship to the last man."

Animal Kingdom Konundrum: John Nixon bought a "male" hamster pet for his little girl Darryl. Hamster and Darryl got along just fine.

Last week, hamster started acting queerly. "He" kept hiding under the sofa for long periods.

The other night something terrific happened: "Mr." hamster had five little hamsters.

Woman phoned in the suggestion: That those now too big (what a laugh) beer glasses be sold at 30 cents a dozen and the money tossed into the community chest fund.

It was nice to see Fred Jackson again. Fred was a lawyer of note around our town for a good many years.

A few years ago Fred went out to the coast to live. Now people move to the coast from Edmonton for a number of two reasons. (1) They have made a lot of money. (2) They have high blood pressure.

Fred's blood pressure is normal.

Mr. Jackson is still associated with J. N. McDonald, Edmonton barrister.

A nice goodnight to all and especially to people who are still pulling for Annis Stukus and his Eskimos.

School Board To Seek $1,800,000 For Building

The Edmonton Public School Board last night decided to seek Public Utilities Commissioners' authorization to borrow $1,800,000 for the 1960-61 building program.

The money would be used to build a new high school, buy and improve school sites, and erect and equip four six-room elementary schools with auditoriums, concrete floors and stucco superstructures.

The sum of $1,800,000 will be included in the next year for the building of a four-room addition to Klag Edward Park school.

The price was $470,000, lowest of six companies.

General contract work on the addition will begin immediately.

Official opening of Bellevue and International schools will be held in late November or early December, the board decided.

The board agreed on spending of $1,541 for the purchase of cafeteria tables and silverware for Victoria Community school cafeteria.

The Presbyterian Fellowship of Edmonton will be held in the Presbyterian Fellowship of Edmonton on Sunday, Oct. 30, at 10 a.m. at the University of Alberta. The Fellowship will be held in the Presbyterian Fellowship of Edmonton on Sunday, Oct. 30, at 10 a.m. at the University of Alberta.

Big Trees Make Way for Road

BETTER STREETS for Edmonton gradually take shape as city's arterial building program is pushed forward. Trees are being torn up on 103 street at 100 avenue as crews widen street south from Jasper to top of Hill.

Newcomers Leap Into City Centre Plan Controversy

EVEN SWORD ISN'T IMPOSSIBLE ARTICLE

Two newcomers jumped into the heated Federation city centre development debate last night as Property Owners' Association staged a four-hour forum on the lively issue.

Almost 100 attentive—and at times contentious—listeners jammed a small public library room to hear Arthur L. Burrows, past-president of Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, team up with Aid. Athelstan Bisset to argue for a "yes" vote by ratepayers Nov. 1, and F. W. Rice, Property Owners' Association member, join with Aid. Fred Mitchell in demanding a negative vote.

When the formal speech ended, Chairman Bisset's chairmanship was taken by Fred Mitchell, who said that the city's future was at stake. He said that the city's future was at stake.

In this order, the four main speakers said:

Aid. Fred Mitchell: "Are you going to give away your tax revenue for 60 years? I say we have other means to get an auditorium and the other public service features. This proposition has resulted in a loss of $33,112. It is a fact that they didn't recommend an auditorium money by law last year, and they have done nothing with the lively question period restricted to questions—everybody wanted to make a speech."

Aid. Athelstan Bisset: "Desirability of the project is attractive to everyone. I say we should build it. You must make up your mind whether you want it on the terms I intend."

Mayor Parsons pointed out that in its decision on the city's current money balance, the board of public utilities commissioners said the city should consider a "boost" in rate to country patrons.

"For years we have been working toward uniform rates for all the province, and it would not be fair or equitable to go back to individual rates. It would be a disaster," said Dr. Eason.

Country Patrons Not Subsidized

Country patrons in Royal Alexandra hospital are not being subsidized by Edmonton taxpayers.

In a statement made following last night's hospital board meeting, Dr. Eason, chairman Aid. Fred Mitchell, and the board's public committee said:

"Royal Alexandra hospital is charging country and city patients the same rates, which are fully supported. They have been agreed."

Dr. Eason said that the hospital's financial position is sound.

Two Offices Are Looted

Handworking thieves Monday night broke into two offices in the Agency Building and escaped with a total of $500 in cash and stamps.

Using cellphoned calls to force the door, the thieves broke into the Canadian Mercantile Insurance Company of $317.64 in cash and $40 in stamps. The cash box was taken from the vault.

LOCK NOT SLIPPED

Jack Purton, branch chef, told police he had not slipped the lock on the night before.

The officers of M. H. McCall Agencies were also forced to take from a cash box in the manager's office.

Women Today

16 EDMONTON BULLETIN, Wednesday, Oct. 25, 1950

Wearing, Carrying Gloves Is Art Say Experts

Many women purchase gloves just because it is conventional. Instead of wearing them, they carry them about like limp flags to signal their own knowledge, if not observance, of the rules.

Those with an eye for important details, however, regard their gloves much as they do a final scoop of whipped cream upon a handsome dessert. They use them to add dash and elegance.

Not only is it important to choose your gloves in a color that will accent or complement your costume, but it is also necessary to wear them as a polished part of your outfit, not as an afterthought.

First, choose your gloves to fit. They must be long enough to reach over your fingers and down your wrist, and the glove tips should be smooth and free of any roughness.

Next, pick the gloves plain, patterned or with a subtle design. They should be in a color that will complement your costume.

Costs are full—full—full. Skirt lengths—still the same—fourteen and fifteen inches.

Waistlines—Tuy and normal. Bad line—High and accentuated, but soft and round, but with more set-in sleeves.

Neck lines—High cut and on the other. Also really bare with convertible tops to hide them.

Sacred Chief Calls For Price Subsidies

Optimum Production Seen As End Of Civil In Costs

OTTAWA, Oct. 25.—(CP)—Solon Low, Credit leader, last night called for the encouragement "of an unfettered productive effort" as a means of bringing down the high cost of living.

In an address on the CIBC's "Nation's Business" series of free-time political broadcasts, Mr. Low charged that the Liberal government's "mass fear of abundance must bear the blame for the fact that over the years we allowed the cost of living to rise continuously."

The Canadian dollar today is worth only 56 cents in terms of the dollar of 1939. This meant that a man earning $112 a month in 1939 would have to have a net income of $200 today to have the same buying power. Taking taxes into account, he would have to be earning $240 a month.

One aspect of these inflated prices was the shortage of savings of those who had sought to provide security for their old age.

He called for removal of all "extraneous and discouragement" on full production and a system of complete distribution of the country's optimum production.

USE OF SUBSIDIES
"For the immediate moment," he added, "Canada should adopt the Social Credit compensated price discount technique, which involves the use of subsidies to bring consumer prices of the necessities of life down to the level of

JUST A BIT PREMATURE ON THIS COMPLAINT

SEATTLE, Oct. 25.—(AP)—"It happens every election. Somebody sets the garbage dumps on fire and stinks up my campaign."

So complained Dean C. McLean, county commissioner, after another blow—third in a week—here on yesterday in the county garage dump.

McLean is running for re-election.

"The same thing happened two years ago," he said. "Only that time whoever did it passed out printed handbills, complaining about the smoke and blaming me."

"Their mistake, of course, was that they passed out the handbills before they got the fire going."

Treaty Nations Cheered As Defence Talks Open

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—(AP)—The 12 North Atlantic countries, banded together for defence against Communist armed might, may be able to create a bigger force and do it faster than their military planners have hoped.

This prospect, cheering to a nervous western world, developed out of the opening session yesterday of the military committee of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

It resulted, essentially, from three things:

1. The urgent plea by Gen. Omar Bradley of the United States to the committee for action now to bring into being an integrated land, sea and air force to resist any new military threats by Russia or her Communist satellites.

2. A move in the military committee, sparked by one of the smaller countries, to contribute to the combined defensive organization a larger force than had been envisaged.

3. The overt act of Communist-bringing war to Korea—which has dropped up the tempo of rearmament by most of the Atlantic powers, whether or not they are fighting in the Far Eastern conflict.

GAINS APPROVAL
A spokesman for the American delegation to the conference didn't identify the small country that set off the move to speed up formation of the combined force, but he said the idea immediately gained approval from the other chiefs of staff who represent the treaty members.

He said the idea for speeding up applies to all phases of the plan—the immediate emergency

U.S. Will Make Arms As Long As It's Necessary

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y., Oct. 25.—(AP)—President Truman challenged Russia today to agree to a "fool-proof" disarmament plan so that the United Nations will be free to wage a world-wide "war against want."

The United States and other free countries, Truman said, will continue to build up their military forces as insurance against aggression until there is unanimous agreement on "international control of atomic energy and the reduction of armaments and armed forces."

He said the nations of the world, acting through the United Nations, could join in a greatly enlarged program of mutual aid.

As the cost of maintaining armaments decreased, every nation could greatly increase its contributions to advancing human welfare. All of us could then pool even greater resources to support the United Nations in its war against want.

"In this way, our armaments would be transformed into food, medicine, tools for use in underdeveloped areas, and into other aids for human advancement."

With delegates from Russia and her iron curtain satellites in this audience, Truman avoided mentioning Russia by name, but his indictment of Communist aggression followed.

Traffic Safety Campaign With Films Urged For City

A film campaign to make the public more conscious of traffic safety was urged today by Paul Lawrence, director of the Edmonton Safety Council.

One of three Canadian delegates just returned from the week-long meeting of the U.S. National Safety Congress, which attracted 14,000 delegates to Chicago, Mr. Lawrence said he found films being put to a wide use by public safety bodies in the U.S.

He said he selected 20 of 50 safety films shown to the Congress to be brought here in the next two months to be shown free all over the province by the Alberta Safety Council.

MANY NEW IDEAS
During his stay in Chicago, Mr. Lawrence sat with the traffic committee of the Safety Congress and reports receiving many new ideas which he will discuss soon with City Engineer James D. Macdonald.

"I think a traffic survey would be particularly useful here," he said. "Scientifically conducted, it would show us where our heaviest traffic is, where it originates and where it goes."

"Our traffic isn't serious difficult yet but it does move pretty slowly considering the width of our streets," he said.

ONE-WAY STREETS
"One possible improvement would be one-way streets and a traffic survey could show where there should be established."

Mr. Lawrence found approval among American delegates for the type of speed limit used by Edmonton.

As a result of the conference, a special sub-division of the U.S. National Safety Congress was formed to take in Alberta and B.C. and the 11 western American states.
